

MaxCyte Announces Departure of CFO and Appointment of Ron Holtz as Interim CFO, Announces Preliminary First Quarter 2022 Revenue

April 12, 2022 8:05 PM EDT

GAITHERSBURG, Md., April 12, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- MaxCyte, Inc., (NASDAQ: MXCT; LSE: MXCT), a leading commercial cell-engineering company focused on providing enabling platform technologies to advance innovative cell-based research as well as next-generation cell therapeutic discovery, development and commercialization, today announced that Amanda Murphy has resigned from her position as Chief Financial Officer, effective as of April 15, 2022, to pursue other interests. Ron Holtz, current Senior Vice President and Chief Accounting Officer, has been named Interim Chief Financial Officer effective upon Ms. Murphy's departure.

Following her departure, Ms. Murphy intends to provide consulting services to MaxCyte as requested to facilitate a smooth transition of responsibilities. Additionally, Sean Menarguez has been promoted to Director, Investor Relations.

MaxCyte also announced that its revenue for the first quarter of 2022 is expected to be at least $11.0 million, compared to $6.5 million in the first quarter of 2021. Core business revenue is expected to be at least $9.0 million, compared to $6.5 million in the prior year period, and SPL Program-related revenue is expected to be $2.0 million, compared to $0.0 in the prior year period. These results are preliminary, however, and remain subject to the completion of MaxCyte's normal quarterly review procedures. As a result, these preliminary results may be different from the actual results that will be reflected in MaxCyte's consolidated financial statements for the quarter ended March 31, 2022, which are expected to be released in May.

"On behalf of our entire team, I would like to thank Amanda for her contributions to MaxCyte, helping guide us through our initial public offering on Nasdaq in early August of last year and seeing us through our continued strong growth. We wish her well in her future endeavors," said Doug Doerfler, President and CEO of MaxCyte. "I am pleased to announce the appointment of Ron as our CFO on an interim basis; previously, Ron served as MaxCyte's CFO from 2005 to 2020 and has remained an integral part of our management team while serving as Chief Accounting Officer. Additionally, I am delighted with our operational and financial performance in the first quarter, and proud of our continued successful support for the clinical progress of our partners."

"It has been an honor to serve as CFO of MaxCyte and participate in the company's growth, strategy development and successful IPO on the Nasdaq exchange," said Amanda Murphy. "I remain committed to ensuring a smooth transition and look forward to working with Ron and the finance team over the coming months."

The Company has engaged executive search firm Korn Ferry to lead a search for a new Chief Financial Officer.
